

Campfire Ashes

Ashes taken from a campfire are sprinkled into the remains of the next campfire. The next morning, when the ashes are cold, they are stirred and each Scout takes some along to mix with his next campfire. If more than one scout brings ashes to the same campfire, the lists are pooled with the dates and places of all campfires recorded and passed on.

It is traditional that only those present at the ceremony carry away ashes from the ceremony.

We carry our friendships with us in these ashes from other campfires with other comrades in other lands. May the joining of the dead fires with the leaping flames symbolize once more the unbroken chain that binds scouts of the United States with Scouts throughout the world.

These ashes have been carried by the Scouts around the world and have come from campfires in:
